Aurionpro has been featured in ET's Best Tech Brands 2022

Mumbai, 29th September 2022: Aurionpro, a leading digital innovations company and an enabler of platform-led enterprise transformation, has been recognized as one of the best technology brands at the recently held event "The Economic Times Best Tech Brands 2022". This award recognizes Aurionpro's game-changing solutions that have brought about a transformation in the country's digital landscape by blending innovation and thought leadership.

Commenting on this win, Ashish Rai, Vice Chairman and President of Aurionpro Solutions said,

"We're delighted to have received this recognition from The Economic Times. This is a great validation of Aurionpro's contribution to India's digital ecosystem. We are pleased that our efforts in building products and solutions that solve real-world challenges are gaining industry-wide recognition. Our goal is to bridge the digital divide and make the world a far more connected space. In order to achieve this, we will continue to innovate and provide unique and differentiated solutions to our customers."

The Economic Times Best Tech Brands is a platform that not only recognizes the contributions in IT excellence but also brings together the best minds from across sectors to enable exchange of ideas. It aims to honor and recognize organizations that have contributed to the growth of India's technology sector through strategy and execution. The awards earmark the beginning of a new epoch in India's digital transformation story and celebrate the achievements of the country's IT sector.

Aurionpro was felicitated with the award at the annual event on September 23, 2022, in Bangalore. The company will also be featured in The Economic Times Best Tech Brands Coffee Table Book 2022, which showcases the visionary leadership behind these brands, their journeys, challenges, and the outlook that helped foster brand excellence.
